Does the B-grade photovoltaic panel have a warranty

Overview

Manufacturers often have warranties on grade B solar panels, either the same length as grade A solar panels or a shorter length of time.

Manufacturers often have warranties on grade B solar panels, either the same length as grade A solar panels or a shorter length of time.

The leading solar manufacturers now offer a product warranty of up to 25 years, which means your power bill savings are protected for a long time. Do grade B solar panels have warranties?

Some companies also have warranties on their grade B solar panels, the same as their grade A's, and is a good indication of how confident the manufacturers are in the performance of the grade B solar panels. If you're nervous about grade B solar panels' performance, look for a business that sells them with warranties.

What is a Grade B solar panel?

Grade B solar panels have visual defects but meet performance specifications. These solar panels are less common than grade A solar panels but are typically available from manufacturers upon request. Most manufacturers keep these panels for testing purposes but sell them with warranties like grade A solar panels.

What types of warranties cover solar panels?

There are two basic types of warranties that cover solar panels. A product warranty protects you from defects in a solar panel stemming from material quality or manufacturing errors. This is also referred to as an equipment or materials warranty.

What is a solar panel performance warranty?

A solar panel performance warranty guarantees that a home solar panel installation will meet or exceed a baseline of electric power output over the panels' lifetime and warranty period.

Do you sell grade B solar panels?

Most manufacturers and distributors only sell grade A and B solar panels, scrapping C solar panels and recycling D solar panels. A's are typically the most advertised and sold. However, some do sell grade B solar panels upon request.

How long does a solar panel warranty last?

A 25-year performance warranty is the industry standard for top-tier solar panel manufacturers.
