Overview

Is China a major market for solar photovoltaics?

Provided by the Springer Nature SharedIt content-sharing initiative In recent years, China has become not just a large producer but a major market for solar photovoltaics (PV), increasing interest in solar electricity prices in China.

Should China's residential PV installation policies increase users' trust?

China's residential PV installation policies should increase users' trust. Future policies should aim at decreasing the reliance on subsidy policy. Abstract Residential photovoltaics (PV) presents an effective means of achieving low-carbon development, owing to its installation flexibility and resource-saving properties.

How much solar energy does Chongqing receive?

Chongqing is in the eastern part of the Sichuan Basin and receives on average 107 W m^{-2} solar radiation 24 with $732 \text{ kWh kW p}^{-1}$ yearly solar energy conversion, from our calculations (Methods). Among all of the provinces, Chongqing has the lowest average solar availability capacity ($<100 \text{ GW 25}$).

Are PV power stations booming in China?

China has vast desert areas, mainly located in the northern arid and semi-arid regions (SFA, 2011). In these areas, where ecosystems are very fragile, PV power stations are booming (Wu et al., 2014a).

How does subsidy policy affect residential PV installation in China?

The adoption of residential PV is influenced by the government's subsidy policy. Property rights for buildings and bungalows also affect PV systems' installation. China's residential PV installation policies should increase users' trust. Future policies should aim at decreasing the reliance on subsidy policy. Abstract.

Is China developing a rooftop solar system?

Fishman, an energy analyst at the Lantau Group, an economic consultancy firm in Shanghai, was keen to meet with developers in Shandong to understand how China is developing extensive rooftop solar installations at such a remarkable pace.
