Overview

Are solar panels causing a surge in photovoltaic panel waste?

The coming surge in photovoltaic panel waste is tiny compared to other categories, and most health concerns about solar equipment are unfounded. The Amazon Fort Powhatan Solar Farm in Disputanta, Virginia on August 19, 2022. Credit: Drew Angerer/Getty Images.

Are outdated misconceptions hindering the adoption of solar panels?

Outdated misconceptions about the toxicity and waste of solar PV modules, including misinformation regarding toxic materials in mainstream PV panels, are hindering the adoption of this technology, according to a US government-funded research lab.

Is cadmium in photovoltaic panels a problem?

The concerns are pervasive, but almost completely separate from reality. For example, one of the recurring issues raised against solar development is the presence of cadmium in photovoltaic panels.

Are photovoltaic modules slowing the decarbonization of the world?

Nature Physics 19, 1376–1378 (2023) Cite this article Unsubstantiated claims that fuel growing public concern over the toxicity of photovoltaic modules and their waste are slowing their deployment. Clarifying these issues will help to facilitate the decarbonization that our world depends on.

Can photovoltaic panels be used in high-carbon countries?

Of course, if you manufacture photovoltaic panels with low-carbon electricity (for example, in a solar-powered factory) and install them in a high-carbon-intensity country, the greenhouse-gas-payback time will be lower than the energy-payback time.

Is France a leader in photovoltaic waste processing?

France is already a leader among European nations when it comes to processing photovoltaic waste, says Nicolas Defrenne. His organisation, Soren, partners with ROSI and other firms, co-ordinating the decommissioning of solar panels all over France. "The biggest one [we decommissioned] took three months," Mr Defrenne recalls.
