Can Sweden achieve 100% renewable power by 2040?

IRENA (2020), Innovative solutions for 100% renewable power in Sweden, International Renewable Energy Agency, Abu Dhabi. Sweden has set out to meet 100% of its electricity needs from renewable sources by 2040. With a highly decarbonised power system already in place, the country is well positioned to help the world meet crucial climate goals.

Does Sweden need a 100% renewable power system?

Sweden has set out to meet 100% of its electricity needs from renewable sources by 2040. With a highly decarbonised power system already in place, the country is well positioned to help the world meet crucial climate goals. In the meantime, Sweden itself needs innovative solutions to meet its ambitious 100% renewables policy goal.

What is the future of renewable power generation in Sweden?

According to the Swedish Energy Agency (2016), growth in renewable power generation is mainly provided by wind and solar PV sources, while the share of dispatchable non-variable hydropower generation is assumed to remain stable by 2040 at around 69 TWh.

What will Sweden's 2016 Energy Agreement mean for Innovation?

Future innovation policies and measures must be tailored to meet the targets contained in Sweden's 2016 Energy Agreement. The Energy Agreement is a national roadmap to an entirely renewable power system and a net zero carbon economy, supported by a large majority in the Swedish parliament.

Can systemic innovations help Sweden achieve 100% renewable electricity by 2040?

This study has two main aims. First, it considers how systemic innovations to integrate high shares of renewables (including from variable renewable energy, VRE) into the power system could help to meet Sweden's ambitious policy target of 100% renewable electricity by 2040.

What is Sweden's energy policy?

The motive in Swedish energy policy is to obtain all its energy from renewable energy sources in the long term. This policy was introduced in 2003 in the country. Transformation of energy systems and high security of supply were two important reasons to promote such policy in Sweden.
